The main objective of the Indian Society for Adult Immunization (ISAI) is to promote adult immunization as a critical healthcare practice, both in India and across the world. ISAI aims to achieve this by advocating for policies and programs that emphasize the importance of vaccines for adults, especially in preventing life-threatening diseases.

The society envisions a future where adult immunization is integrated into routine healthcare, with widespread awareness among the general public, active involvement of healthcare professionals in recommending vaccines, and robust support from the government in implementing immunization strategies.

By fostering collaboration between the government, healthcare providers, and individuals from all sectors of society, ISAI strives to ensure that adult immunization becomes a well-established, essential practice for improving public health and enhancing quality of life globally.
